Britain of Today Is Different Man

Events of Last 15 Years

Responsible Says McCullagh

By George McCullagh

LONDON, April 23.—As you approach England for the first time since the end of the war, you do so with mixed feelings. You hope that London has recovered from its wounds.

You recall the blackouts and the incendiary bombs, the gutted houses, and the flying squares where once were houses, and you hope that all this somehow has been healed. Here in the aftermath of the most terrible war of history, in a country under the impact of state socialism, how are things going?

About a week before my arrival the lights had been turned on in Piccadilly Circus and the rest of London.

The crowds looked happy. The approaching championship soccer game between Scotland and England was causing excitement.

There was an air of gaiety and expectation, and yet what had happened in London and to the land could not be overlooked.

The green lights on Waterloo Bridge are on all night, but you may watch for hours at your window after midnight and you will seldom see an automobile cross it and hardly a pedestrian on the Embankment.

You can't get over the feeling that something has happened to the Englishman.

He works hard, very hard at his job. He is steady, persevering, but you get the feeling that he takes it perhaps a bit too seriously. You are afraid that there has disappeared a very essential ingredient of the British character, the capacity to be indignant.

More Cheery in War

In far more grave days during the war, possibly because of the emotional stimulus of the war, one's sense of humor in those times, the capacity to be indignant and cheerful and even optimistic.

Today there is a definite trace of a defeatist attitude, and I say this not at all to disparage the Britons' ability to take it.

But today there is a feeling of hopelessness, undoubtedly brought about by the sequence of circumstances of the last 15 years, the tattered days preceding 1939, the feeling Britain took for six years during the war, and the desolation of a Socialist state during the last three years.

It would be unjust to attribute it to any one of these factors alone, but it does seem tragic that a nation of gallant people, whose efforts the hand of a tyrant was kept from our throats, must now succumb to the very same grip of bureaucratic regimentation.

Wounds Covered Over

One passes by a whole block of empty spaces which are overgrown with weeds and bushes. The ground, owned by a German bank, is closed over by the luxurious carpet of Mother Nature. You ask the man: "You must have been hard hit around here?"

"Yes, sir," he says. "By that time you are several blocks away from that empty space, but since you called my attention to it, the cable continues. 'Quite hard hit because of the rights' and 'right here'—holds a bit forward to the left. 'You can hardly notice it now,' he says."

It looks green and neat—some of weeds, of course—and, after a pause, he adds: "But at the time it was terrible, sir."

So the "little" Londoner continues to be patient, polite, always gentle and tolerant.

"How much?" "Three and six, sir."

Absence of Rancor

But what is most striking to one coming from the New World is the apparent absence of rancor, backbiting and mud-slinging, although the political passions at times run high.

Perhaps it is this that the visitor from the New World mistakes for a lack of stamina and inability to rebel. Perhaps the vigorous, well-fed and bountiful man of the New World is a little off because of the poor flying weather over New Brunswick, RCAF search and rescue headquarters reported here today.

Two planes, piloted by two New Brunswick pilots, searched 30,000 square miles of New Brunswick forest yesterday without success.

$64 Million Building Plan Here

Bulletin Survey Shows All-Time Record in Offing

By WILLIAM SPUD MURPHY

Construction projects to be started in Edmonton this year total an estimated $64,600,000.

This figure is arrived at following a Bulletin survey of construction projects for which building permits have been issued, plans prepared or are in process of preparation, and for which sites have been secured.

The estimate includes total cost of structures that may take from two to three years to complete.

These structures are the Glenora hotel, extension to the Marmora federal building, and new provincial administration building.

All-time records in all phases of construction are predicted for Edmonton this year with several cities are anticipating declines in building programs.

Estimated accounts for $20,000,000 of the total, with commercial building estimated at $20,000,000 and institutional at $10,000,000.

Approximately 2,500 accommodation units will be provided through the co-operative efforts of city contractors, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Dominion and Housing Corporation.

City Commissioner D. B. Menzies stated today that all 1,000 units of the new housing program will be completed by the end of the year.

Many new homes

He added that the effort would be made to secure additional land that may be required by contractors later in the year.

Present allocation of building permits is as follows:

New Air Line Service Here to Speed Travel

Mainline Trans-Canada air service through Edmonton, which begins May 1, will speed Edmontonians' travel to places as far distant as London.

At present, the schedule for east-bound flight Edmonton passengers will be able to board TCA's mainline service at 6:30 p.m. and arrive in Winnipeg at 11:30 p.m. and in Toronto at 5:30 a.m.

Direct connections from Toronto and Montreal will allow them to be in London at 5:30 p.m. the following day.

An amendment of the new schedule was made today by John Graham, director of traffic and sales for Trans-Canada.

"The new service will bring Edmontonians to within 100 miles of the three main air routes from Vancouver and Victoria," Mr. Graham said. Passengers will be able to board here today.

Under the new schedule, direct flights between here and Calgary will be greatly improved, with flights from Edmonton at 7:15 a.m., 1:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Returning flights will leave Calgary at 7:15 a.m., 9 a.m. and 9:30 a.m.

The 7:15 a.m. flight from Edmonton will connect with Western Air Lines flight to Denver and Los Angeles, returning the W.A.L. plane to Edmonton at 11:30 a.m. with the flight leaving Lethbridge at 8:15 p.m., arriving in Edmonton at 1:30 p.m.

FASTER AIR CARGO

Air cargo will also be speeded as a result of the new schedule. Trans-Canada flights will carry mail and express directly to Vancouver, with flights to Calgary.

Fish caught in Vancouver in the morning could be in Edmonton within 12 hours for dinner the same day if the new plane service is used.

"I feel that Edmontonians will receive the best air service possible through the new schedule," Mr. Graham said. "The new service will begin May 1, and will be maintained as long as business conditions permit."

Mountain Differential Freight Rate Enclosed

July 1 Order Set By Transport Board

OTTAWA, April 23.—(CP)—Removal of the mountain differential freight rate, and above-normal charges on some hauls over the Rockies, was ordered today by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

In a judgment climaxing a long battle over the contentious rate, the board told the railways it must be removed by July 1.

The mountain differential rate, which is 1 1/2 times the prairie rate, is estimated to cost freight shippers about $5,000,000 a year.

FROM B.C. REQUEST

The British Columbia government made application to the board for removal of the rate in the summer of 1948, claiming it was "unjustly discriminatory" against the Pacific Coast provinces.

However, after the term provisions had been made, the board held the rate should come off eventually, but that this step should be taken only in conjunction with the removal of other rate "discriminations" against the province.

A somewhat similar stand was taken by Saskatchewan.

MANITOBA OPPOSED

Manitoba was flatly opposed to removal of the mountain rate, contending it would react against Manitoba freight-shippers by causing them to share in the burden of added railway costs in the mountain area. It said that, if anything, the differential rate was too low.

The city of Winnipeg and its board of trade supported the Manitoba position.

The railways, which have joined the western provinces in battling railway rate increases, did not share a similar position. Nor did Ontario and Quebec, which have not taken part in the series of freight rate wars underway for the last two years.

LENGHTY HEARING

A series of hearings that opened last fall in the west and concluded here in February, British Columbia submitted that the railways had not proven their unit rates were higher in B.C. than on the prairie provinces.

In any event, the west province claimed, it was an economic necessity to establish freight rates on the basis of regional cost. If that were to be done, the railways also should charge differentials in its Quebec and New Brunswick territories.

COST SAID HIGHER

The railways contend that the $2,000,000 they get annually from the differential rate amounted to only a fraction of the actual increased operating costs caused by mountain territory in British Columbia. The cost was estimated at more than $20,000,000 a year.

Elimination of this special revenue to the Canadian Pacific railway, claimed, would create a need that could be filled only by the imposition of a general two-per-cent rate increase across the country. It asked that the differential be maintained.

It also immediately granted such a general rate increase in addition to its own plan for a 1949 rate increase.

Reds Say U.K. Ships Attacked Batteries

SHANGHAI, April 23.—(CP)—The Chinese Communists tonight accused British and Chinese Nationalist naval forces of jointly attacking Red shore positions on the Yangtze.

The charge, broadcast by the Peiping radio, came shortly after a British battleship, the Royal Oak, was reported to have been damaged at Shanghai, said in a radio address by Premier Churchill.

Every message—"operational or by cease-fire agreement"—to the front from the Yangtze, said Churchill, was being cut off by the British ships.

Information received so far showed that 30 British ships are in the Red Sea, Churchill said, and that the Yangtze is being cut off by the British ships.

Anarchy Sweeps Nanking As City Falls to Reds

By Arthur Goul

SHANGHAI, April 23.—(UPI)—A Communist fifth column seized control of nationalist-abandoned Nanking today and set the stage for a triumphant Communist march into China's capital.

Nationalist resistance on the approaches to Shanghai, China's largest city, collapsed as Communist columns continued their lightning drive to the south with government troops fleeing before them.

All cities north of Shanghai were reported abandoned.

The Communist radio said 1,000 troops had been thrown across the Yangtze on an 80-mile front.

LOOTERS SWARM STREETS

Nanking was reported in a state of anarchy, abandoned by Nationalist troops and police.

Only this week a group of Communists in eastern, water and electric services were stopped and waves of looters still swarmed through the streets after a full day of pillage.

Telephoned reports from Nanking said wild mobs began looting the city's business district at dawn after Nationalist troops and police fled. The mobs did not attack the foreign consulates or residential areas.

A United Press reporter telephoned at 11:40 a.m. Nanking time said there were no Communist forces in uniform to be seen in Nanking.

WELCOME FOR REDS

Another United Press dispatch from Nanking at 2 p.m. said Chen Chi-Kuang, chairman of the Nanking City Council and former Nationalist leader, was welcomed to Nanking by the city.

He was greeted by the city's Communist leaders.

Redwater Allowables Revision Coming Soon

The new production allowances for oil wells in the Redwater field, for a period of time to be set within the next few days by the Natural Gas Conservation Board.

This was learned yesterday in Calgary at the meeting of the board's hearing of representations from owners and operators of wells in the field, which was held at the court house.

The present allowable is 600 barrels a day per well, but some companies are only producing about 300 barrels a day due to the limited market outlet. Others are producing at full allowable capacity.

The board consisted of J. N. McKinnon, chairman, Dr. G. W. Gower and D. P. Goodall. J. D. Gaudin, division engineer, Imperial Oil Limited, suggested that the board should set a full allowable for the field with additional allowances for each well.

He said that allowances ranging from 300 to 600 barrels a day would not be excessive and asked the board to the maximum at 600 barrels a day.

J. A. O. POSEY
BAI O. Arpe, chief engineer, British American Oil Co. Ltd., was opposed to allowances being based on the footage of the productive zone. He favored a flat maximum of well allowable until the water influx had been determined with special consideration being given to wells meeting that treatment.

John G. Mahoney, representing Pacific Petroleum Ltd., Surrey Oil Company, Province Petroleum Limited and Calvan Petroleum Limited said the interests on represented "assent in any manner" to the proposal to base allowable on the Redwater field on the basis of barrels per day foot of all zone penetration.

Differential Is Removed

a 20-per-cent hoist already before the commissioners.

TWO ARE AGREED
The recent offering of the differential eliminated out was written by Chief Commissioner M. R. Archibald and countersigned by Commissioner Frank MacPherson.

The third board member who heard the application, Deputy Chief Commissioner Arnold Sullivan, said he agreed the differential was not justified but that he would leave the matter to be dealt with by the Royal Commission on Transportation.

Mr. Justice Archibald, in his decision, said that there was "clear and conclusive evidence" that the rate differential was not justified in the Pacific territory and any priority territory affected by it.

RATES "UNREASONABLE"
There was "equally clear and conclusive evidence" that the rate differential was not justified in the Pacific territory and any priority territory affected by it.

He added that the railways had not shown, and he did not think they could show, that present conditions now are similar enough to those of 1922 to justify continuing the differential.

In 1922, when the differential rate was placed at its present level following a fight by British Columbia, the differential had been 1 1/2 times the prime rate.

While the chief commissioner said the differential affected only a small portion of mountain freight traffic, he declared there was "no just discrimination" against those who paid the scale.

Alberta Held Not So Concerned
A. L. Burrows, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that while Alberta had presented its case in the hearings, it was to urge adoption of the Spokane Convention, and the application on the differential was chiefly the affair of the province of British Columbia.

The Spokane Convention lays down the principle that freight rates should not move up in intermediate points than terminal.

Don McKay, secretary-manager of the Chamber, has stated that the whole freight rate structure means "life and death" for Alberta. The mountain differential is important in indicating some hope that more favorable consideration will be given to adoption of the Spokane Convention.

Maisie O'Driscoll Returns To Schoolroom on Monday

Classmates will be waiting to greet little Maisie O'Driscoll when she returns to school Monday.

With no further information as to when the treatments for her nervous condition are likely to begin at the University Hospital, the 10-year-old girl is anxious to get back to school.

She particularly wants to see all the Grade four pupils in Calder school, who prayed for her during when doctors feared the child was suffering from tumor of the brain.

It was their money added to that of hundreds of Edmontonians which enabled the O'Driscoll family to send Maisie to the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota. There she was examined by her father, a leading specialist who finally diagnosed acute nervous tension.

Dr. Bertram Spence, psychiatrist at the world famous clinic is to continue direction of treatment which it is hoped will ease the child's nervous state.

He is notifying local doctors of all details connected with the youngster's illness.

Accommodation which becomes legally vacant now does not come under the Rent Control Board and the landlord is permitted to charge what the traffic will bear.

The Control Board admitted it had received complaints about overcharging but generally such rents were fixed by agreement between landlord and tenant, and the tenant had to agree or seek accommodation elsewhere.

Because so many persons in E.D. are now owners of their own homes, the eviction problem never was as great as in eastern Canadian cities where more persons seemed to prefer to rent, an official of the Board pointed out.

Housing Picture Improving Here

May 1 Deadline Won't Find Many Homeless

Edmonton's private housing accommodation problem appears to be improving.

May 1, one of the two customary yearly rental periods, will probably find less than 50 families facing eviction, compared to 3,000 in a city like Toronto.

Under de-control regulations announced last October, any landlord might apply to a commissioner to have his tenant vacate on hardship grounds, or if he had purchased before Nov. 1, 1947, could give notice by Nov. 1, 1948, of six months to vacate, providing the needed the premises for himself and family.

The local Rent Control Board has received 35 applications under these provisions by Nov. 1.

Blockade Lifting Is Sought at UN

Soviet and U.S. Diplomats Holding Informal Talks

LAKE SUCCESS, April 23.—(BUP)—High Soviet and American diplomats are carrying on informal talks here in efforts to find some formula for lifting the Berlin blockade. United Nations sources said today.

Jacob A. Malik, permanent delegate, recently apprised U.S. Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup and suggested the possibility of big four talks looking forward toward lifting the blockade on the German capital, reliable informants said.

Both Jessup, who since has been shuttling back-and-forth between here and Washington, and Malik reduced comment on the reports.

EVATT MAY JOIN
UN officials reported that assembly president Herbert V. Evatt has not yet taken a hand in the preliminary negotiations, although the possibility of his later participation was considered likely.

Radio Moscow only yesterday broadcast a proposal by the Communist camp in Berlin that the blockade should be lifted and said the majority of businessmen in the city's western sector would welcome the proposal.

Information that the American-Soviet talks were under way came after the UN's special political committee voted last night to recommend that the general assembly voice its "deep concern" over charges that Hungary and Bulgaria had suppressed human rights and fundamental freedoms during the recent church trials. The vote was 24 to 4 with 11 nations abstaining. Only the Soviet bloc opposed the recommendation.

RETENTION URGED
Proposed by Bolivia, the resolution asks the assembly to retain the hot East-West issue on its agenda until its September meeting. This would allow the United States and Britain time to invoke provisions of the Hungarian and Bulgarian peace treaties which guarantee freedom of religion.

The vote climaxed five days of lengthy debate on the trials of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty by Hungary and Protestant churches by Bulgaria. Defeated were Cuban and Australian moves to have the UN appoint an investigating commission that would have the immediate inquiries into the church trials.

"Cannot the nation... at least give substance to the charges for which we are so frequently brought to book?"

Indian Delegate Named To Parley
SASKATOON, Sask., April 23.—(BUP)—Dr. S. C. Sen, honorary joint secretary of the Indian medical association, will represent India at the British Commonwealth medical conference here June 7 to June 12.

This was announced today by Dr. J. F. C. Anderson, Saskatoon, president-elect of the Canadian medical association.

RHEUMATISM CURE RESULTS IN DEATH

ST. JEAN CHRYSOSTOME, Que., April 23.—(CP)—Georges Cantin, 35, of this Lévis county village electrocuted himself yesterday when he allegedly tried a cure for rheumatism.

Cantin, father of seven children, went to his barn and decided to give himself an electric treatment to relieve his pains, police said.

He connected wires to a light socket and tied one wire to each wrist. Then he turned on the switch. He fell dead.

A coroner's court jury ruled the death accidental.

Manitoba House Session Concluded

WINNIPEG, April 23.—(CP)—The fourth session of Manitoba's 22nd legislature was prorogued yesterday by Lieutenant-Governor R. F. McWilliams, bringing to a close a sitting which began Feb. 8 and was one of the longest in several years.

Assent was given 55 bills. Earlier in the session, 42 bills received assent.

The first shipment of tea was brought to Canada by the Hudson's Bay Company in 1716.

Policeman Freed On Theft Count

COBURG, Ont., April 23.—(CP)—G. R. Pudry, former police chief of nearby Port Hope, yesterday was acquitted on a charge of theft by Judge M. A. Miller but elected trial by jury on two other theft counts.

The charge on which he was acquitted was of theft of $12.50 from the municipality, representing a fine on a liquor charge that was settled out of court. The other charges involve similar sums.

St. Laurent Concludes Busy Tour of West

PORT ARTHUR, April 23.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent called this Lakehead area one of the "remarkable" growing segments of the Canadian economy last night and singled out one of its members of parliament—Trade Minister Howe—as "one of the great Canadians of all time."

While Mr. Howe, member for Port Arthur since 1933, sat behind him, Mr. St. Laurent declared that "I don't believe I could have accepted the responsibilities of Liberal leadership last year if I had not been ready to stand at my side."

He had made sure of that support, the prime minister said, by going to Mr. Howe and asking him.

CONCLUSION OF TOUR
The prime minister's address to a public meeting here was the last of some 30 on an Easter-recess tour which took him through the west to Victoria, and back, covering 10 cities and more than 6,000 miles in two weeks.

He leaves late tonight by train for Ottawa and the resumption of parliament Monday.

His day at the Lakehead was spent in shuffling back and forth between the twin cities of Port Arthur and Fort William, both of since 1942. Employment was up 113 per cent over 1939.

EX-PARATROOPER Bob Niles, 22, shows off his home-made "eaglemat" suit after completing a jump stunt in Walnut Creek, Calif. Niles bailed out of a plane at 6,500 feet, dropped in a free dive to 500 feet, where he opened a retarding chute. At 200 feet he opened a second chute.

Hunger Still Stalks Northern Settlements

ST. JOHN'S, April 23.—(CP)—Despite efforts by RCAF planes and icebreaker Saurel, hunger still is being felt in the icy reaches of Labrador, it was learned here today.

A message from Black Tickle, far in the northland, told of some 400 persons who have nothing to eat but hard bread and a supply of flour.

The message was sent by Albert Bartlett of Black Tickle to a supply firm at Port de Grave, on nearby Conception Bay, begging for food to tide the district over the spring breakup period.

The food scarcity extended over the region of Batties, spotted islands and other small settlements as well as Black Tickle, about 100 miles north of Battle Harbor, Labrador, to which the Saurel crashed her way with a load of food last week.

Earlier, air force planes and one private aircraft had carried food to the Battle Harbor area.

SIX WEEKS YET
Persons well versed in the rigors of the northland said the Saurel would not be able to get to Black Tickle for about six weeks, due to the mountainous ice barriers that block the coast this time of year.

Only possibility of aid would be by plane. The giant Canadian air base of Goose Bay is situated about 100 miles west of the affected area and it was expected that mercy planes might take off today. There was no official comment immediately.

Planes from Goose Bay only two days ago flew a mission to Hebron, still farther north in Labrador, to bring to hospital two Eskimos suffering from influenza in an epidemic that had affected about 100 persons.

It has been said the food shortage was due partly to Confederation, the northland villages scrambling on supplies—especially such essentials as flour and meat—in order to take advantage of an expected drop in prices after union.

Three Die By Bomb
PARIS, April 23.—(Reuters)—Three persons were killed and 14 were injured when a bomb, hidden in a heap of scrap iron, exploded when the metal was being loaded on a ship at the North African port of Tunis, the Agency France-Press reported last night.

RED TAPE IS MOURNED IN BRITAIN

LONDON, April 23.—(CP)—Alma, mourns a correspondent, there's no red tape in His Majesty's civil service!

So says a letter in The Times signed "Civil Servant," and it's hard to tell whether he's kidding or not.

"Grey and unhygienic relics of wartime necessity normally enclose our papers, and lately a shameful volume of olive drab has been forced upon us."

"Can't the nation... at least give substance to the charges for which we are so frequently brought to book?"

Juveniles Steal Shaving Lotion
CALGARY, April 23.—(CP)—Two boys, 11 and 12 years, yesterday admitted to police the theft of articles from the Canadian Freightways Ltd. and Victoria Park. The youths stole a quantity of shaving lotion, deodorants, shampoon, a flashlight, three pairs of boots, and some bills of lading from a Freightways truck two months ago. Most of the articles were recovered by two youngsters in an old shed.

THE QUEENSWAY is generously designed for a wide suburban lot with an extended front and includes a breezeway and attached two-car garage. This house should be built on at least 100 feet of property. It is designed so that the one-and-a-half story living room has a generous window overlooking the garden, this is opposite the large heater-type fireplace in the opposite end. Ample wall space is provided. The ceiling is an open beam effect with attractive plywood panels between. Bedrooms are sufficiently large to accommodate twin beds. Provision is made for a stair to the second floor where two bedrooms and a bath can later be finished. The dining room is small but it could be extended if required. Kitchen is exceptionally attractive and lends itself well to a streamlined modern treatment.

This is another in the long series of practical homes by Harold C. Beckett, MRAIC, 52 Chatham St. W., Windsor, Ontario, for readers of the Bulletin.

Study Essential In Home Planning

Crown Company Shows Way Of Budgeting for House

The largest single investment the average family makes is in building or buying a house yet building or buying a house is one of the things most families know least about. Successful home-ownership requires a careful and practical consideration of all the factors involved for it is not something to be taken lightly nor is it something to be shunned because of possible hazards.

Even with today's shortage of rental accommodation, the family can make mistakes and correct them, without serious consequences. The home-owner family cannot afford to make mistakes. In the preparation of a budget, the stage for actual building, a great deal of thought and careful study is essential. Failure to consider any one of the important factors which will affect the investment may lead to much unhappiness.

FINANCIAL APPROACH

For those who can pay cash for a house and lot, the problem of successful home-ownership narrows considerably. However, most families will need to borrow money to finance the investment. It is at this point where early care and thought will ensure success. It is a hard truth to face, but a family cannot afford to get into a home ownership which is improperly approached. A financial statement can become a heavy burden.

The family which proceeds wisely will find that the house which it can afford to buy is the one which it can afford to live in. How much of the present income can be afforded to invest in a house and lot? The answer to this question will determine how much can be paid out for heated housing accommodation.

This is no place for commonly-used rule-of-thumb. The amount a family can invest in a house from savings and the amount which can be set aside monthly to meet mortgage payments for insurance, taxes, maintenance and heating, is a matter of personal circumstances. They should be calculated as accurately as possible. Keeping in mind that it is better to be conservative rather than optimistic regarding the amount you can pay.

DON'T FORGET EXTRAS

No modern home would be complete without a stove and refrigerator but quite often home planners forget to include the cost of these items in making their calculations. It comes as a distinct shock when they realize that an extra amount, which may be as high as a thousand dollars or more, is required to completely equip their new household. Families living up their mortgage payments, particularly apartment dwellers, may not own such equipment and to purchase it will require a major expenditure.

Unfortunately, costs may increase during construction or other difficulties may arise which will require more cash. Funds kept in reserve, no matter how small, may mean the difference between getting off on the right foot and facing immediate financial difficulty necessitating application for an increased loan or other borrowing which will throw off your calculations of the monthly amount had $20.00 per month available for heated housing, multiplying by 80 would give an amount of $1,600.00. This is the maximum amount of loan this particular family could endeavor to carry. The difference between the loan and the total cost of the house and lot and all other expenditures should be provided from cash or savings. If this family builds or buys and equips a new house at a total cost of $25,000.00, then, $2,500.00, the difference between the total cost and the loan, should come from savings.

The formula of 80 times the monthly amount available for housing can be used as a guide only since it is based on average costs for mortgage payments, taxes, fire insurance, maintenance and repairs, and heating. In meeting the various monthly expenditures related to home-ownership, under a 25-year amortization plan with interest at 4 1/2%, each dollar of the monthly amount available for housing will, where the conditions are average, be spent as follows:

Mortgage	44 cents
Taxes	2 cents
Maintenance and repairs	25 cents
Heat	11 cents
TOTAL	100 cents

Farm 4-F Hop Acclaimed As Big Success

Members of the Edmonton Farm 4-F Hop, held the time of their first April 27 at a barn-dance hall & Western Gym.

FIDDLING FARMERS
The mysterious name of the dance, "Farm 4-F", had everyone guessing until Saturday night, when it was revealed as Fun For Fiddling Farmers.

All members dressed in blue jeans, shirts, plaid shirts, cowboy hats and some even carried water guns, much to the disappointment of many couples.

OLD TIME MUSIC
The "old time" music was supplied by the fiddling 1A system with records.

During the dance the gym was kept rocking, while teenagers were dancing the schottische, polka, square dance, and good old-fashioned waltz.

The dance ended at eleven-thirty.

Edmonton-Towns Council has held another barn dance to be held in Garrison Court, May 2.

Ave. Teens Have Queen Candidate

Eighteen-year-old Jackie McNamara has been chosen the contestant from Avenue Teens for Calgary-Edmonton Queen.

Jackie is a grade 12 student at St. Mary's High School and is a YWCA PT instructor. Well known in tennis circles, she has been a tennis champion for five years and will be crowned with a dress, direct from Hollywood.

She will also ride with other representatives at the head of the Calgary-Banff parade.

It will then be necessary for every nominee to prepare costume and speeches to be seen and heard at the big Banff-Banff parade.

Y-Teen Sessions Approach Finish

Business and Pleasure Mix
In Three-Day Talk Fest

By Hilda Dier

The Western Canada Y-Teen three-day conference concluded in Edmonton on Friday.

With more than 100 delegates from Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Kamoury and Kelowna, B.C., the conference was deemed a huge success.

COWBOY REGALIA

The delegates, gaily... in cowboy regalia, made their way to their conference "Barn Dance."

Problems dealing with racial and religious intolerance were discussed Tuesday night and the opening of the conference with a party at the Y-Teen Center. The Y-Teen Center, conference chairman, introduced the visitors and featured a presentation of the Y-Teen Center, acting as master of ceremonies. The Edmonton group presented a skill, "Vocabulary of the Plains" while the Calgary group presented a second play.

Business sessions which opened at the Recreation Building Wednesday featured discussions on racial tolerance, by the Rev. J. T. Steinhilber, and religious tolerance, by the Rev. R. B. Dier.

At the evening the delegates attended a banquet at the YWCA auditorium.

BUSINESS THURSDAY
Business sessions were resumed on Thursday at the YWCA Hall. C. C. Casselman led the discussion on "Y-Teenism."

Dr. Hilda Dier, Y-Teenism, was presented by the Edmonton group. The highlight of the conference, "Bicycle Boogie," was a dance held at the YWCA gym Thursday night. Adolphus, Victoria, B.C. Schools group and the Vincent Club at Vincent of Commercial, were in charge of arrangements for the dance.

Teens Strike At Racism

A blow at racial discrimination in Alberta was struck yesterday at the final meeting of the Y-Teen conference.

Protesting discrimination shown by the Capital Pool in Calgary, a delegate from that city introduced a surprise resolution proposing a formal protest by the Y-Teens to be submitted by editors submitted to all major Alberta newspapers.

EDITORIALS PROPOSED
After a short discussion, this resolution passed and a delegate will be appointed to write editorial protesting against undemocratic action.

A recommendation was made that the voting age for clubs in the Y-Teens be lowered from 18 to 17 years.

In the discussion by the delegates the decision was reached that a resolution be introduced at the Dominion Convention, to be held at Ottawa, May 28 to June 4.

Delegates to the conference will be sent from the various Y-Teen Clubs throughout Canada.

It was also decided that club members will join with the Y-Teen Club in the western Y-Teen Club to join until the maximum enrollment figure has been reached.

When a club has expanded beyond the set enrollment figure, a division will be set up and two associate clubs will be set up.

1946 CONFERENCE PLANS
The next annual Y-Teen conference will be held next spring in Calgary.

For the first time in the club's history, "Melrose" has been chosen as the site for the planning conference, to be held in the city for the spring term.

Plans for the planning conference has not been officially set, but it is expected to be some time in January.

It was announced Monday at the regular council meeting that a nominating committee would be named to be in charge of the nominations for the new executive of Edmon-Teens.

Several nominations have been received but more are necessary to complete the slate.

Cast of the Edmon-Teens Varieties show will have Friday for Calgary where they will make a performance sponsored by the Calgary Borden Club.

The show will be put on two nights and it has been announced that the tickets are sold out for the final night and also going well for Friday night.

TRAIN NO. 54
T

on the TOWN

By J. D.

Our sports editor, Stan Mohr, has started to talk about horse racing again, a sure sign that summer is here even if the thermometer shows that it isn't.

Mr. Mohr informs me there will be 14 days of racing at the Edmonton Exhibition grounds track, starting May 28.

Now he no stretch of the imagination can I say claim to being a gambler, I haven't the money and I haven't the knack of picking winners.

In addition the Moose gets pretty cranky about me taking currency out, to a place like a race track of a Sunday.

I lost money at the race I get an awful bawling out. But she didn't bawl me out that Saturday afternoon last summer that I clicked for the daily double that paid some $70. (The first double I ever won).

As a matter of fact I can never remember a more congenial evening around my place.

It may be that the two ten dollar bills I tossed on the kitchen table lifted my race track privileges out of the cold realm of gambling to the warm glow of an investment.

CAN BE FUN
If a person has a good sense of humor he can have a lot of fun around a race track.

Nearly everybody plays some kind of system. There seems to be the way from something vaguely more complicated than Prof. Einstein's mathematics to some of your children and the money's Groucho says it's their favorite game.

Sometimes I think I'm lucky because I'm unlucky at picking winners. I could just as well be in business very much with only a moderate amount of encouragement from the gamblers.

And if a fellow wins a few bets he's very apt to start thinking he's good at it. That kind of thinking can get a guy into a system that paid out handsomely although it certainly made me look like a chump.

WINNING SYSTEM
She used to call me before each race and ask what horses I thought had a chance. Curiously, I gave her my best knowledge without thought of reward. (What she could do a fellow in the case of a pretty school-teacher).

Then she would place a bet on one horse I hadn't mentioned. After the race she would wave a bunch of winning mutual tickets in my face just as I was preparing a bad apology.

HUGE FEDERAL forward mail building adjacent to CNR station will be one of Edmonton's largest structures. Steel work on the $1,072,400 postal building has been completed and concrete slab floors are being laid. Four storeys in height, building is 212 x 108 feet. Wells and Co. of Saskatoon have the general contract.

PREPARATIONS for laying concrete on roof of federal forward mail building are now going ahead. Some 50 carpenters and laborers are now laying wood flooring in readiness for concrete top. Officials here estimate it will be another year before building is ready to occupy.

History Group Meets Tuesday

Contribution of the McDougalls to the development of Alberta will be discussed by Rev. E. J. Staley when he addresses the April meeting of the Historical Society of Alberta Tuesday.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the George McDougall Memorial church, 101 street. Dr. E. J. Staley will give brief biographical sketches of the pioneers whose portraits are hung in the museum.

City Hospital Will Get Full Survey

Eastern Consultant Will Be Asked Here

Professional consultant from Toronto will be asked to make a survey of Royal Alexandra hospital facilities and report on modernization needs.

Hospital board meeting last night authorized hiring of James (Govan), Toronto, member of the professional consultant service firm of Govan, Ferguson and Lindsay, to survey the hospital.

The decision followed suggestions by Dr. Malcolm T. Macfarlane, Chicago, assistant director of the American College of Surgeons, and administration professor at North Western University, who in a recent hospital facilities white paper in Edmonton recently.

Recommendation of Mr. Govan, Dr. J. H. Easton, Royal Alexandra hospital superintendent, said the hospital board members of the increasing difficulty of correlating work in various wings of the hospital. He said that increase in the number of patients was also creating administrative difficulties.

Cost of the hospital survey will be about $1,500, the board was told. No provision was made for the expense in the hospital's 1943 budget, but it is thought reasonable that at the project might eventually

BINGO FEVER MEANS LIVING DANGEROUSLY

FUN AND GAMES like Bingo parties mean leisure hours filled with laughter, excitement and company for elders who flock to the newly-organized Friendship Club weekly. Happy times are had by dear old people like Mrs. Gwyn Jones, left, Mrs. T. Duggie, Mrs. M. Cleary and Joseph Peterson who are busy with the game being at the Recreation building club room.

TEA-TIME MEANS GOODIES FOR THE CLUB MEMBERS

REFRESHMENTS are served during every meeting of the club and the old people enjoy the piping hot cup of tea, the tasty sandwiches, the delicious cakes, supplied by the hostesses of the day. M. G. Cleary, left, looks forward to the tea served by Mrs. Elsie Scramstad. And so does young-old Nels Neilson.

THE OLD SONGS ARE THE SONGS OF JOY

Newly-Formed Friendship Club Draws Hundreds of Oldsters to Fun and Cheer

One of the most worthwhile activities sponsored by public spirited Edmontonians is the newly-formed Friendship Club.

For the past two months young-in-heart members of the past-60 brigade have flocked to the Recreation building to meet new friends, read, write letters, learn new crafts, sing, play games and be entertained by talented city people.

The club meets each Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons at the Recreation building, gathering at 2 p.m. for the day's relaxation.

Each Thursday evening, the oldsters gather for a bit of fun and frolic arranged by any one of a number of active service organizations.

Edmonton clubs have rallied enthusiastically to the need for a recreation centre for elderly people and are having a barrel of fun arranging parties, programs and classes for the new club members.

The membership is increasing by leaps and bounds, frequently overflowing the limited facilities of the recreation room. But everyone has the spirit of the progressive movement at heart and it is certain to be a continued success.

OLD FINGERS ARE NIMBLE FINGERS FOR HANDICRAFT WORK

DELICATE PASTELS of fragile Coalport-style ornaments are made quickly and easily by the nimble fingers of Friendship Club members interested in handicrafts. Helping Mrs. Eva McMillan, left, Mrs. Winifred Francis, Mrs. Anne Larue and Mrs. Lilford.

Morris pay special attention to instructress Mrs. Muriel Wells. Each pretty little floral study in the imitation Coalport is a work of patience and art. Mrs. Wells reports her pupils as doing wonderfully well with the painstakingly fine work.

A FINE PLACE FOR EXTRA-CURRICULAR READING

RELAXATION means reading to so many people . . . and especially people who have passed the middle years of life. Their bodies are tired with the years but their minds remain active and they enjoy reading a good book. Nels Neilson and Mrs. A. Kennedy get into a bit of heated discussion about one of the faster novels of the gay nineties when they were but gay young things.

Spring a Challenge To Every Homemaker

By Ben Thrift

Happy Saturday! Every single spring day is a challenge... and adventure in housekeeping. With spring-cleaning, new fresh goods available in the city shops... and the beauty of the greening horizon we have a happy time.

Each day we expect to see asparagus, strawberries, melons... and products of our local greenhouses.

Well, well another spring day for the asparagus, maybe longer for the berries but we're enjoying lettuce, radishes and green onions right in the heart of Edmonton right now.

Yes! We can buy locally grown green leaf lettuce at the per bunch for 10 cents... as good as any... so much our own.

Do you know what the kings of the vegetable selling world tell me? Well, this is it. We will be feeling a ripe, red delicious tomato from Mexico all summer and the British Columbia products will go elsewhere.

Sauces will be having for more than a year. Mexican sauces come all the way for the 25¢ per pound. We'd be the one for the 25¢ per pound for the B.C. ones.

There is a discrepancy here, but where?

The discrepancy is in the price of the tomatoes. The B.C. ones are 25¢ per pound, while the Mexican ones are 25¢ per pound.

For simple soups and soups of time I've searching for a potato-soup recipe in within a minute.

And for a mere 10¢ I bought one.

I found the most splendid bargain today.

WHY GROW OLD

Today's Reading Pays Dividends in Future

Sometimes the only way we can get ahead is to get busy. We are all so busy with the 24-hour clock of everyday living that often our most important moments are lost in the clutter and stare us in the face unexpectedly.

We are not getting ahead of life. We are not getting ahead of the 24-hour clock. We are not getting ahead of the 24-hour clock.

Summer Camp Value Depends on Individual

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

"Because camps are taking registration at this time of year where I live," writes Mrs. M.S., "the following questions seem pressing to me and I would appreciate it if you would answer them."

"My daughter is now one and a half years old. We have moved and are now in a new home. We have a younger child of 4 and we have been accused of selfishness because:

"(1) We want some of the older children to come to the summer camp with us. Is this wrong?"

"(2) We cannot afford a whole summer at camp for both children and so we feel that part of the money we could spend should be for the older child."

"(3) Is it possible for us to go on a trip to the camp with the older child and leave the younger child at home?"

"(4) Are there benefits to be received from camp life which are not available at home?"

"The probability is that she would be able to spend a whole summer away from home and see all the children since only summer vacation is possible for them."

"If you cannot afford to send her, you should be able to send her for a two-week period to give her a pleasant taste of camp life and the values of an experience depend on the individual child's readiness."

"The benefits of camp are real and undeniable and without service, maybe you could send her for a two-week period to give her a pleasant taste of camp life and the values of an experience depend on the individual child's readiness."

Stagette Dance

At Trocadero Next Friday

Annual stagette dance of the Stagette Club will be held at the Trocadero ballroom April 25. This was announced at a recent meeting of the club.

Miss Fileen Cope, assisted by Miss Lillian Womack, will be in charge of ticket sales.

Miss Patricia Prochaska was appointed convener of the decoration committee.

At the 14th regular club in the Cannel hospital the club presented the veterans' wards with five stencils and a collection of records.

Black and white blazers, standard club dress, have been ordered, in preparation for district convention.

It is hoped that the stagettes will be able to give the veterans a good time every day and be considered as necessary to good grooming as lipstick and face powder.

10 THAT GANGSTER

AFTER the supper dishes had been washed the Teenie Weenie Cook put a kettle of water on the stove to heat. He had just dumped a pan of dough onto his kneading board when the kitchen door flew violently open and Skippy burst in nearly tearing away the tiny door jamb in his hurry. The chipmunk slammed the door shut and stared wild-eyed at the Teenie Weenies in the room.

The little folks could hear the chipmunk's heart beating, which made a sound as loud as a woodpecker pounding on a tree. The Teenie Weenies stared back with astonishment, for this was most unusual behavior, as Skippy had always knocked on the door and he had never been in the kitchen before except for his head, which would just clear the opening.

"Why, Skippy! What's the matter?" gasped the astonished Lady of Fashion.

"Oh, my! Ch-er-r-r!" chattered the chipmunk, and he burst into such a violent hysterical chatter the Teenie Weenies could not make out a single word.

The Cook sent the Dunce for the Chinaman, who best understands animal talk, and when that little scholar arrived he began questioning the excited chipmunk. He finally extracted this information:

Skippy had gone to sleep for the night when he was awakened by a noise at the little door the Teenie Weenies had built into the entrance of his burrow. Thinking it was some of the Teenie Weenies calling, the chipmunk removed the bar and the minute he opened the door he smelled a weasel.

THE TEENIE WEENIES

BY W. M. DONAHUE

Skippy tried to slam the door shut but the gangster was a powerful beast and he was slowly forcing his way in when the chipmunk decided it would be best to flee. He dashed down his burrow and up one of the escape tunnels to the ground above. Pushing through the earthen plug at the top he ran to the Teenie Weenie village.

Of course there was nothing to do but to put Skippy up for the night in the Teenie Weenie kitchen. In the morning several of the Teenie Weenie men armed with spears, pointed with sharp needles and carrying candles, escorted the chipmunk back to his burrow. Lighting the candles the men searched every inch of the burrow. The gangster's tracks could be seen all through the various passages but the beast had left.

Skippy certainly had a narrow escape. He was very grateful for the Teenie Weenies' protection and he told the little people that he would never again open his door until he knew who was outside.
